it is difficult for most women to get in those 10,000 steps a day, but every little effort can make a difference this anomaly can occur sporadically, and probably occurs most often in this fashion it's so delicious and for people that don't like the consistency of oats, this is a great healthy option for breakfast but we'll take the risks over the currently approved medications.